SUMMER ENROLLMENT GOES UPWARD

Looking forward to the addition of many new students for the second half of the six-week summer session, the controller's office reported that 592 students had enrolled for the first three weeks and that the number would certainly pass the 600 mark next Monday.

This mark compares favorably with the summer session totals for 1942 when about 700 registered for work.

Registration next week will not affect students who paid their fee three weeks ago and enrolled in all of their classes at that time.

Many persons, however, will begin three-week courses next Monday.

ITALIAN DINNER AWAITS STUDENT BODY FOLK

Opening the second half of the 1943 Summer Session with a social scoop, the co-chairmen Mrs. Ella Mae Beseman and Vera Mae Chase announce a huge Italian dinner for all student body card holders next Thursday, July 22, at 6 p.m.

The event will be held in the activities room, and directed by Artise Payne and Gloria Catalano, who are arranging the dinner, and admission will be 50 cents, plus 1 red point and 1 blue point.

Located on campus, the dinner will be attractive to many persons who are unfamiliar with the city's districts.

Everyone planning to attend must place points and name in an envelope and slip into a locked box outside Dean Ward's office in College Hall by next Wednesday noon, July 21.

For further information, inquire at the student body office. Anyone planning to attend who has not purchased a student body card may do so in the student body office, room 118, College Hall.

REGISTERING NEXT FALL?

Many students enrolled for the summer session are planning to register as regular, or part-time students in the fall. If this is true of anyone who has not as yet worked out a program with the counselor's office, he should attend to that business soon.

Programs should be filed before registration day in the fall.

Summer Session students will get a rare opportunity to hear a good discussion of modern teaching methods next week when Dr. Roberts returns to the campus to address the 11 O'Clock Hour, Monday.

Dr. Roberts is recognized as an authority in the field of education and has written a number of books on the subject.

Making his second appearance of the week, Dr. Roberts will talk to the Philosophy Hour students next Wednesday, discussing "Schools-- Now and in Peace Time."

The 11 o'clock hour is almost a "must" for the teacher who is becoming re-acquainted with his or her old profession. Not only has the course been planned to give interesting and constructive information, but it also has been designed to give an "over all" view of the methods of teaching in use today among progressive educators.

The 11 o'clock hour is carried on day by day in the Frederic Burk auditorium. We suggest that anytime anyone is free at that hour, he drop in, because regardless of the day, something valuable is being offered..

The professor looked up from his desk and replied, "Well, what does he want?"

Senior: How do you like my room as a whole?

Freshie: As a hole, it's fine; as a room--not so good.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS TRAIN IN MUSIC WORKSHOP

Do you all know what the Music Workshop is?

Every Summer Session the San Francisco State Music Department conducts the Music Workshop, which is open to any student in junior or senior high school. These students may be anything from a rank beginner to a very advanced and playing any musical instrument.

This year State is host to 140 students, ranging in age from 10 to 18 years. Some instruction begins at 9 a. m., but everyone is in class by 10.

Pride of the Workshop is the "Workshop Gazette," a weekly newspaper, written, edited and printed by the students.

This year for the first time the Workshop students are able to get high school credit for their work.. They must take three hours of work a day, have a good attendance record, and passing grades.

The job of grading the students is handled by the State music faculty, under the direction of Dr. W. E. Knuth, head of the music department. Twenty student teachers and professional symphony men assist in the grading.

The morale runs high in the music alley during the summer. The reason for this, they claim, is that both teachers and students are there because they want to be, not because it is required of them.

The SUMMER STATER is published weekly during the summer session and is available free to all paid up members of the student body.

Editorial office is located in Room 119B, College Hall, and copies of back issues may be obtained there.

Students and faculty are asked to contribute articles. All contributions should be limited in length and typewritten, and all articles and letters must be signed. Leave articles in 119B or in Faculty postbox #40.
